Word has been received that Jack Forest Metcalf was killed in action in France, July 23. He enlisted as soon as he was eighteen in Co. K, 161 Reg., U. S. Inf., at Arlington, Wash., and lived to serve his country only about one year. He was a grandson of Ephraim Metcalf, veteran of the Civil war, who passed away two years ago. He has a number of relatives here.

Millions of yards of silk are now used in making bags to hold the powder for heavy-artillery charges, says the November Popular Mechanics Magazine. Because of the growing scarcity of this material, special interest centers in tests now being made of a cotton-cloth substitute, which is treated by a chemical process. If it proves satisfactory it is said that a saving of many millions of dollars will be made.

EAST ALMA

Miss Pauline Broadhead and Mr. Leonard Hungerford were united in marriage on Oct. 12. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents on Eastward street. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Lloyd Broadhead. Mr. Lloyd Moffett acted as best man and his sister, Miss Moffett, as bride's maid. The bride wore a blue satin gown with gold trimming. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Grier. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous supper. The young couple left for a visit with Mr. Hungerford's mother, who lives in Owosso. After a short honeymoon trip the young couple will reside in Alma. Until a year ago Mr. Hungerford was serving Uncle Sam on the Texas border. He has a position in the sugar plant now.

The men's meeting at Eastminster chapel was a success. The musical program by Mr. Winslow was appreciated especially the song "We Don't Want the Bacon—What We Want Is a Piece of the Rhine." Professor Brokenshire gave a very fine patriotic address. His personal reminiscences of Count Bernstorff and President Wilson at Princeton university were very valuable and were listened to by the seventy men with close attention. The ladies served an excellent lunch in the ladies' parlor. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sumerlot have moved into the house on Pennsylvania ave., lately occupied by the Simpsons.

NOTICE TO OUR PATRONS

Our theatres have been closed indefinitely by an order of the city officials.

We are sorry to be obliged to deprive the citizens of Alma of their much needed recreation during these times of stress.

The closing order was served upon us without giving us an opportunity to arrange anything and we are therefore obliged to fulfill our contracts with the film people and with our employees at a tremendous expense.

We think enough of the welfare of the people of Alma to endure these burdens, as long as the people wish us to remain closed and hope that upon our reopening we may be rewarded with your continued good will and patronage.

A. H. ASHLEY, Manager.
